The kiss is vitally important. If a man cannot kiss sensually, he cannot be sensual. Period.

If a man is not sensitive to the way a woman kisses or wants to be kissed, he cannot be sensitive to a woman.

If a man does not entice a woman with his kiss, he is not into pleasing a woman.

The kiss is the preview. It is a reflection of what will happen in the bedroom.

A man’s skills as a lover are very much evident in the way he kisses.

So I shall describe to you how a man should kiss a woman.

The kiss is a vital component in the many things a Masterful Lover does to build up his woman’s sexual responsiveness.

The kiss gets her mentally and emotionally into the sexual context.

The kiss can set up sexual tension.

The kiss can sexually arouse her.

The kiss can get her excited about having sex.

Women love to kiss, and women are highly sensitive to the way a man kisses.

Remember, female sexuality is entirely mental. That includes the kiss. Women are highly sensitive to the mental signals. Women respond to a man based on the mental stimulation.

And when I say mental, I also include emotional. The mental will create the emotional, or in other words, emotional is included in the universe of mental processing.
THE IDEAL KISS

There are many stages in the kiss. Each has its purpose and technique. I shall describe the steps in detail. I will teach the man how to lead the kiss.

Consider that every stage of the kiss is analogous to every stage of sex in the bedroom.

(In parenthesis I will describe the analogous sexual stage.)

Let’s take a situational scenario. Let’s say that you and her are standing facing each other having conversation. Though this could happen in most any situation.

You must lead her mentally. The way you look at her and your body language and your emotional state must go in the sensual direction. Your thoughts will be reflected in your emotions, which will be reflected in your body language.

You must be the first to go into the sensual direction. You go first. She will then follow into the same state.

Slow your talking. Make your voice softer and lower. Breathe deeper and slower. Move slower.

Then make like you are preoccupied with fascination for her.

(Analogy: You are undressing her in the bedroom.)

At this point, she will begin to wonder about your change in state. This will interrupt her thought process. This is important. You have to interrupt her current state in order to change it. But you don’t make it obvious what state you are going into so that she has to search for it because you want her to pay close attention to you. She will begin to pay close attention to you as she searches for what state you have gone into.

You can tell when her thought process has been interrupted when she goes quiet and starts to look at you inquisitively. She is searching for where you have gone mentally. Now you have her full attention. This is the exact moment to make the next move.

(Analogy: You are aroused by her. Women love it when her man is aroused by her.)

Then gaze at her lips. This gives her the first clue as to where you are going.

Look into her eyes, pause, and then say to her, “All evening long, I have been absolutely fascinated with (pause, look at her lips) your lips.” Then lick your lips and look into her eyes. She will have looked at your lips right at the moment that you licked your lips. Then she will look into your eyes to find that you are looking into her eyes. Perfect. Her thought process has been interrupted and you have led her into the sensual context.

Now comes the next step; building of sexual tension.

Look at her lips, slowly lean in towards her, and slightly tilt your head to the right. Your lips are soft and only very slightly parted. They are not puckered.

She will follow by mirroring your actions. She will slowly move in towards you and will tilt her head to her right.

(Analogy: She is aroused by you. Women love sex (when done right.))

Keep looking at her lips until you close your eyes just as your lips are about to meet. Very lightly touch your lips onto hers. She will participate.

Now comes the next step, foreplay.

Softly and tenderly kiss her lips. Make it very light, almost as if you are teasing her. She loves to be sensually teased.

(Analogy: You are lightly kissing and touching her body all over, teasing her.)

Keep your lips soft and keep them only slightly parted at this time.

But she will want more. Up until now you have been leading and she has been following. It is at this point that she will begin to take what she wants. She will take the lead and she will kiss you more passionately. Follow her lead and kiss her back more passionately.

(Analogy: She becomes more aroused and responds to your touch. She wants her clitoris to be stroked.)

When she parts her lips slightly more to kiss more passionately, you part your lips slightly more to kiss more passionately. When she presses harder against your lips, pucker your lips slightly so you can press harder against her lips. When she tilts her head more to her right to get closer, tilt your head more to your right.

Now she is enjoying kissing you.
(Analogy: She becomes more aroused and wants you to make love to her.)

Now is when you take the lead back and escalate it more.

Place the fingers of your hands on either side of her face and hold her face. Use your right hand to tilt her head to the side even more. Kiss more passionately.

By now she should have wrapped her arms around your neck. If she hasn’t, take her arms and wrap them around your neck. Then put your left arm under her right arm and place your left hand on the back of her neck.

If her lips part more, go with it. Imagine that you two are twist your bodies around each other.

(Analogy: Making love to her.)

Then slide your right hand down her body and wrap it around her waist. With your right arm wrapped around her, you secure her. Then with your left hand grab a fistful of her hair, being careful to keep it comfortable for her.

(Analogy: Making love to her harder.)

Then with your left hand you pull her head back and to the side as you kiss her even more passionately. You twist your bodies around each other even more. You keep her secure and close to you with your right arm.

(Analogy: Fucking her hard.)

Then pull her head back more and slightly lean her back as you hold her securely. Kiss her passionately.

(Analogy: Ravishing her.)

That’s how it’s done.

Download my FREE CD called “The Secrets Of The Masterful Lover” at Masterful-Lover.com/freecd where you will discover the “politically incorrect” truths about women and sexuality from America's Renegade Sex Expert: David Shade.

Give women incredible pleasure,

David Shade

“The Mile High Kiss”